Overview:

Revenue is up by 38% due to increased demand for medical and industrial gases and customer engineering projects in the current year. Meanwhile, a pricing benefit is being realized in 2025 as various 2024 tenders come to an end, allowing the Company to adjust pricing to account for increased overheads. Distribution, selling, and administration expenses have reduced in the current period, in line with deliberate management interventions to reduce costs.

Arising from the above, profit after tax has increased by 170% compared to the same period last year.

The same accounting policies and methods of computation have been followed in these interim financial statements as in the most recent annual audited financial statements.

Outlook:

The infrastructure projects implemented by the Company in prior years are now leading to a gradual increase in demand for, and access to, medical gases. Meanwhile, the Company expects minimal change in performance during the second half of the year, as all engineering projects are likely to be completed before year-end.

Dividend:

The Board of Directors has declared an interim dividend of Kshs 2.50 per share for the six-month period ended 30 June 2025 (2024 interim dividend: Kshs 2.50), to be paid on or about 14 October 2025 to shareholders on the register at the close of business on 20 September 2025.
